Shabbat
Korach

Shabbat Shalom and Welcome to Congregation Beth Shalom!

We seek to enrich the lives of our congregation through ever-evolving ideals of observance, life-long learning, and acts of kindness from this generation to the next. We are committed to meeting the spiritual, educational and social needs of our members through the practice of Conservative Judaism in an all-inclusive manner. We seek to encourage involvement and create a sense of belonging by serving our community, the Jewish people, and the State of Israel.

We hope you enjoy worshiping with us. Following services, please join us for kiddush luncheon and introduce yourself so we may personally greet you.

Rabbi Aaron Melman • Cantor Steven Stoehr
Rabbi Warner Ferratier • Cantor Raquel P. Gershon, Ritual Director
Tanya Solomon, President • Rabbi Carl Wolkin, Emeritus

Thought to Ponder:

Korach is the paradigm of a demagogic leader. How does one distinguish between a demagogue, and legitimate opposition to authority?

This Week's Parashah

Korach, a Levite, joined by members of the tribe of Reuben, leads a rebellion against Moses and Aaron. They accuse Moses and Aaron of raising themselves above the community of Israelites, all of whom are holy. Moses rebukes Korach for aspiring to privileges above those reserved for the Levites. He tells Korach that God will choose who is holy, and that this will be demonstrated to the people. The 250 rebels, together with Moses and Aaron, offer incense in a fire-pan to God before the Tent of Meeting. God threatens to destroy the entire community, but Moses intercedes. Moses tells the people that if the earth swallows up the rebels, it will be a sign that Moses is God's chosen leader. The ground opens and all of Korach's people are swallowed up. A fire destroys the 250 rebels in his party. The people protest that Moses and Aaron are responsible for the deaths of the rebels. God is angered and prepares to destroy the Israelites, but Moses tells Aaron to provide atonement for them. A total of 14,700 Israelites perish.

Today's Haftarah

The prophet Samuel gathers the people of Israel together at Gilgal, where he speaks to the nation about the king whom God has appointed for them. When the people had demanded of Samuel a human king who would rule over them, he knew that no man's rule could replace the rule of God. But God had instructed Samuel to anoint Saul as King of Israel. Now, Samuel cautions the people not to neglect God and the Torah, because God is the true power behind the throne. It was God who rescued the Jewish people from Egypt, and from Sisera and the Philistines. Whenever the Israelites have turned away from God and worshiped other nation's gods, the God of Israel has sent enemies to conquer them. Even with a human king like Saul, the Jewish people will not survive unless they remember to fear God, to worship God, and to listen to the voice of God. Both Samuel and Moses are faced with those who would reject their leadership. Moses and Samuel have often been linked in tradition. This week's readings underscore this link: selfless service on behalf of justice.
