This Week's Parashah

God leads the Israelites out of Egypt by way of the Sea of Reeds. For a final time, God hardens Pharaoh's heart and the Egyptians pursue the escaping slaves. A path of dry land appears in the Sea of Reeds allowing the Israelites to cross, but when the Egyptians pursue them, the sea closes and all of Pharaoh's army is drowned. Now, convinced of the greatness of God, the Israelites, led by Moses and Miriam, sing songs of praise. As the desert journey continues, the people become hungry and begin to grumble against Moses and Aaron. God tells Moses and Aaron that the Israelites will eat flesh that evening and bread the next morning. In the evening, quail appear and cover the camp. In the morning, God sends manna to feed the Children of Israel. The manna appears each morning; on the sixth day, the Israelites are instructed to gather a double portion because there will be no manna for them to gather on Shabbat. The seventh day is Shabbat - the people are to rest. When the Israelites encamp at Rephidim, they complain about the lack of drinking water. God instructs Moses to strike a rock from which water will flow.

The Amalekites come to attack the Israelites and are defeated. Shabbat Shirah, the Sabbath of the Song, refers to the lengthy song that Moses and the Children of Israel Chanted on the safe shores of the Sea of Reeds after crossing.

Today's Haftarah

Like this morning's Torah reading, the Haftarah also features a song of praise to God. From the Book of Judges, the Haftarah depicts a battle between the Children of Israel and the Canaanites. Israel is led by the prophetess Deborah and a general name Barak. Deborah tells Barak that God has decided to deliver Sisera and his army into the hands of the Israelites. Barak is to lead the Israelite men into battle, but it is foretold that a woman will be the one to end Sisera's life. Though Sisera's men have chariots and the Israelites have none, the Canaanites are quickly routed, and Sisera flees for his life. A woman named Yael offers Sisera a place to hide in her tent, but she tricks the Canaanite general, and as he sleeps she drives a tent peg through his head. In recognition of the victory which God has handed the Israelites, Deborah composes a song of praise.
