RABBI CHAPMAN'S CHRONICLES

Rabbi Chapman

As April turns to May, we mark Yom HaZikaron and Yom Ha'Atzmaut, observed this year on April 30 and May 1, respectively. Yom HaZikaron is Israel's Memorial Day; its full name is יום הזְכָרוֹן לַחֲלָלֵי מַעֲרָכוֹת יִשְׂרָאֵל וְלִנְפָגְעֵי פְּעֻלוֹת הַאִיבָה "Remembrance Day for the Fallen Soldiers of the Wars of Israel and Victims of Actions of Terrorism." Yom HaZikaron is always directly followed by Yom Ha'Atzmaut, Israel's Independence Day.

New events call for new rituals to mark them. Israel's independence gave cause for the Jewish people worldwide to institute these fixed days of remembrance and celebration.

But sometimes, new circumstances complicate the way those rituals are observed. October 7, 2023, will forever change how we look at holidays like Simchat Torah, Purim, and yes, Yom HaZikaron and Yom Ha'Atzmaut. This year, once again, we mark these days with our hearts heavy due to the ongoing plight of the hostages, who have been held in unthinkable conditions now for almost 600 days. We mourn with our families in Israel still reeling over losses they've suffered since this war began, and we know that every day, more families join the ranks of the bereaved.

In these times, when it seems words often fail us, I have leaned on the depth and wisdom found in poetry, specifically Israeli poetry. I am grateful for the volume Shiva: Poems of October 7, a collection of Hebrew poems (with English translations) that give voice to the unimaginable. Editors Rachel Korazim, Michael Bohnen, and Heather Silverman have committed all net proceeds to the Israel Trauma Coalition; their efforts are worthy of our support.

Here is an excerpt from one of the collected poems, calling for a new language to describe the indescribable...

For things impossible to describe

In words permitted in human language...

As years go by

A language as yet uncreated will be created

Because it will be impossible to contain everything

With only a break

With only a scream

With only silence...

From "After It is All Over" by Avraham Sharon

FROM THE CONGREGATION PRESIDENT

Sue Lampert

How does being a member of Congregation Beth Shalom make your life better? Some can quickly articulate an answer; such as friendship, connection, spiritual growth, Jewish observance and education, being part of a community to teach our children that being a Jew matters.

Others may ponder, what do I get if I renew my membership? Fair question. For starters, your CBS community is a stable and reliable ritual and spiritual home, providing education, cultural events, vibrant nurturing Jewish experiences and a robust social fabric.

When you renew your membership, you're not just making a financial transaction, you're investing in our shared spiritual home; a place where you can find comfort, meaning, spirituality, and be part of something greater than yourself. Your commitment breathes life into our shared community where you'll find strength in each other during challenging times, joyous celebrations of life's precious moments, children discovering their heritage, and prayers that lift our spirits together.

You'll get the most out of your synagogue membership by actively engaging in all that we offer, which fosters meaningful connections. From our diverse selection of options, find those that resonate with your individual needs and preferences; to name a few:

- Community Engagement – volunteering or attending our holiday celebrations, birthday and anniversary “selahbrations”, Shabbat dinners, social gatherings and community projects, while building relationships with other members.
- Families With Young Children – you'll kvell as your children and grandchildren engage in Jewish life enjoying numerous social, cultural, and spiritual events, while you bond with other families.
- Religious Services and Holidays – try participating a little bit more than you are used to. Ritual, tradition and the sense of belonging can be incredibly fulfilling.
- Participate in Minyan – communal prayer during a time of loss or a Yahrzeit is powerful and meaningful.
- CBS University – online or in person, take advantage of the extensive variety of programming and classes to continue learning throughout your life.
- Engage in Tzedakah and Acts of Kindness – participate in social action and charity activities with people who share your desire to help others.
- Committee Involvement – whether your interests are Israel, HAZAK (adults over 55), special needs, fundraising, school board, youth, membership, Sisterhood, or Men's Club, there are a plethora of opportunities for you to contribute to that will make the synagogue feel like a second home.

Moreover, it goes without saying, but mentioned for emphasis, your clergy welcome you to call upon them for guidance and support in your personal, spiritual, and life issues.

Renewing your CBS membership is about maintaining a connection to community, faith, and tradition, while supporting the ongoing vitality of the synagogue and its programs. CBS is committed to providing our members with the opportunity to engage, learn, grow, and flourish spiritually as members of our community and the larger Jewish community as well. Through a wide range of worship, educational, and social programs for all ages, you can find a way to participate, connect, and feel at home. We look forward to a lifelong relationship with you as a valued member of our CBS community, l'dor v'dor.

Wishing all the wonderful mothers in our community a very Happy Mother's Day filled with love, joy, and the blessings of family.

L'Shalom,

Sue

CANTOR'S NOTES

Cantor Stoehr

This past February I was pleased to host four busloads of students from Wood Oaks Junior High here at CBS. It was part of their religions course. I received a manila folder in March from them and now wish to share some of their letters sent after their visit.

Dear Cantor Stoehr..., Thank you for welcoming us to Beth Shalom and Judaism. You helped me to understand this religion a lot more, so thank you so much. You taught me that there are 613 commandments in the scroll you showed. I am only familiar with ten, I can't believe there are 613.

....I really enjoyed how you explained everything to us. This is really related to my religion (Christianity).

Dear... Thank you so much for taking the time to teach us about the synagogue and the ways of Judaism... I've been to church a few times before so it was interesting to see the differences (and similarities) between the different houses of worship.

Dear... Thank you for teaching us about Judaism, and I really enjoyed having you explain my religion to the other students in my grade.

Dear... I found interest in how you get closer to G-d (or Allah) and how you are teaching kids younger than us... Now I have a better idea about your religion and now know what the inside of the building looks like. Now I can relate this to my life because in the past I would go to a Buddhist temple in the city with my grandparents, but they said everything in Thai, so I didn't understand anything at the time.

Dear... we have been learning about monotheistic religions, such as Judaism, in our social studies classes... Your presentation was a wonderful way of explaining all of this in a deeper and more meaningful way. Your presentation had me thinking about what I do in my own life and how it relates to my Jewish roots and my relationship with G-d.

Dear... it was amazing that I was holding an actual Jewish artifact in my hand with an entire other language written on it... The connection to God and the Ark was very monotheistic in the sense that it honored and brought you closer to a singular, the singular God. Even in my own life, I'm a Christian, but Christianity branched off of Judaism and the ideas are very similar. I often find myself a little more connected to God, and other people, in places of religious meaning, whether they are Christian or not, they are still holy.

Dear... Even though I am Christian, I highly respect the value of other religions, and due to the way in which you and your community practice Judaism, I respect your religion more than the others... As you talked, I was shown a deeper understanding of all the key points I had learned in (social studies) class, which changed how I saw Judaism as a whole. I am eternally grateful for what you have taught me...

Dear... Something related to me when you opened the Ark, and we all stood up. That is what I do in my Hindu temple when the gods are revealed from the curtain, we too stand to show respect. I would love to come back if we have another field trip. If I had to choose, this would be my first stop, Beth Shalom.

I did not write this article to highlight my teaching skills, but rather to highlight the value of sharing time with our interfaith communities. CBS has done some wonderful things in the past with churches and mosques and interfaith women's groups, and blended faith choirs, etc. But in the era in which we are living, I believe it is of utmost urgency for us to work towards engaging with our neighbors. Building relationships across faiths helps combat stereotypes and reduce prejudice, creating a more inclusive and supportive environment for everyone.

Though the summer is a time of less programming at CBS, it is a great time to get out and about amongst your neighborhoods. Attend community fairs and charity events. The better we all know one another the less foreign all will appear, and the less suspicious one might be of the other. As a minority, the Jewish community may have to extend the olive branch of courteousness first and often.

THE MEANING OF THE HOLIDAY OF SHAVUOT

Shavuot, also known as the “Feast of Weeks,” was originally celebrated as a Thanksgiving for the “First Fruits.” The Torah refers to Shavuot as “Chag HaBikkurim,” the festival of the first fruits, which our ancestors observed by bringing offerings of the best produce to the Temple. During the period leading up to Shavuot, we count each day beginning on the Second Night of Pesach. This counting, “S’firat Ha’Omer,” highlighted our ancestors’ hopes that Shavuot, the end of the Omer counting, would yield a bountiful crop. Coincidentally, the Omer period encompasses many of the tragedies of our people over the generations. Therefore, it is customary to prohibit weddings during a specific part of the seven weeks as a sign of national mourning.

In addition to being an agricultural festival, Shavuot is also a celebration of the Jewish Peoples’ receiving the Torah at Mt. Sinai. Although the Torah does not identify Shavuot in this context, the Talmud has an undisputed tradition that the Torah was given at this time. Therefore, we stay up studying on the first night of the festival, and the Ten Commandments are read in the synagogue on the first day.

Of the major Jewish Holidays, Shavuot is sometimes overlooked. It doesn’t have quite the gravitas of the High Holidays, the fun (or hassle) of eating outside in the Sukkah, nor the nostalgia of Passover Seders. In fact, the folk tradition most strongly associated with it is eating dairy foods, (especially cheesecake). In a sense though, more than any other day on the Jewish calendar, it is the holiday of Jewish identity; it is the holiday which celebrates the Torah, the central teaching which is at the root of Jewish action and belief. It is so closely associated with identity, that it is the day on which we read the book of Ruth and celebrate those who choose to join our community as converts.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Stacy Ybarra

Dear CBS Families,

Thank you for another wonderful school year! In addition to our six curriculum content areas of Hebrew, T'fillah, Torah/History, Holidays/Life Cycle, Israel, and Values we also enjoyed the following:

- We celebrated Tashlich and Sukkot as a school.
- Our kindergarten through 5th grade led Shabbat services and hosted dinners.
- Our 6th grade led the Torah service on a Shabbat morning in March.
- We participated in Good Deeds Day.
- We had two special Shabbat Editions of Religious School where we met on Shabbat morning instead of on Sunday. Students participate in hands-on enrichment activities as well as age-appropriate services. The special class in October focused on the parashah of Bereishit and the April class focused on the counting of the Omer.

Our last class of the school year is Sunday, May 4th, and our special Shabbat B'Yachad with our kindergarten through 2nd graders is Friday, May 9th.

We are already working on exciting programs and projects for the next school year. The school calendar will be posted to the CBS website by July 1st. Our Meet-the-Teacher is Sunday, September 7th!

We hope you have a wonderful summer and look forward to seeing you at some of the fun CBS summer programs.

B'Shalom,

Stacy Ybarra, Director of Education

FAMILIES WITH YOUNG CHILDREN/YOUTH

Anat Pissetzky

Happy May CBS,

Time truly flies when you're having fun, and we've certainly been having a blast in the Youth community this year! From our amazing Families with Young Children events to the USY Midwest Convention, we had so many successful programs in April and I'm so excited to keep the momentum going this month!

We're kicking off May strong on Thursday, May 1, from 7-9pm, with our Annual CBS USY Chili Cook-Off! Our USY members and their families will battle it out for the coveted title of best chili chef - come hungry and prepare for a fierce competition. Then, on Thursday, May 8 at 7pm, we'll hold our CBS USY Executive Board Elections in the Gloss Youth Lounge. Afterward, we'll head over to Dairy Queen in Northbrook to celebrate our outgoing and incoming Board members. Next, on Thursday, May 15 from 7-9pm, we will honor our CBS USY seniors with a Senior Sendoff/Graduation Party to wish them well on their next adventure in life. To wrap up the USY year, we'll have our CBS USY Culminating Dinner on Thursday, May 22 at 7pm. It will be a time to reflect on the memories we've created this year, express our thanks, and say our goodbyes until fall. It's incredible how fast this year has flown by!

If your teen is looking to connect with peers both locally and internationally, get them connected with USY. CBS USY meets every Thursday from 7-9 pm in Beth Shalom's Gloss Youth Lounge, and we would love to include all your high schoolers!

For our grade school friends, Friday, May 2 at 7pm, join us for another exciting Camp Shira: Family Shabbat. We'll have a lively, musical Shabbat service led by Rabbi David Chapman and Rabbi Jonathan Bubis, followed by an ice cream sundae bar with all the toppings you could imagine. Then, on Sunday, May 4 at 12:15pm (after the last day of Religious School), we're hosting a fun End of the Year Celebration for 3rd-7th graders! We'll meet in the Gloss Youth Lounge for lunch, tie-dying, and a friendly game of kickball until 2pm.

For Families with Young Children, we have some fun events to look forward to starting Friday, May 2 and Saturday, May 3 with Shabbat with a Twist. We'll be braiding challah and twisting our bodies with yoga. The next weekend, Friday, May 9 and Saturday, May 10, will bring another installment of Ark Adventures, and Let There Be Play for our 5-9-year-olds. And of course, we're eagerly anticipating our FYC Shabbaton from Friday, May 16 – Sunday, May 18. After our Pre-Shabbaton Brunch in April, we can't wait to bring our CBS ruach to Perlstein Retreat Center in Wisconsin. To close out the month, join us for a Families with Young Children Shabbat Experience on Friday, May 30 at 5pm, followed by a delicious dinner.

Finding Your People at Congregation Beth Shalom

Recently, my family had a really lovely spring break experience- we flew to another country, went to great museums, went on beautiful hikes, tried new foods, and even met some locals! We loved this trip and had a fantastic time, but there was one element of the country we visited that surprised us and challenged us as a family. There was no Jewish community to speak of. While I presume there are citizens of this country who identify as Jewish, there is no permanent synagogue, no rabbinical presence, no kosher restaurants- not even a Chabad House, which feels unprecedented! I can't think about another time in my life where I have felt so far from a Jewish Community. Even while traveling in Europe, Asia, and Central America, I have always found the trappings of a permanent Jewish community or one that exists to provide Jewish Services for fellow travelers.

And while we will cherish the memories made on this vacation, there was an odd, maybe even existential feeling of loneliness. Being Jewish and living Jewishly are so integral to the way our family operates, so being thousands of miles from a Jewish community gave us a little nagging feeling, like the feeling you get when you forget to pack your glasses or you leave your toothbrush at home. The country felt big, and we felt small.

And then, like magic, as we arrived at the airport to return home, a coach bus full of Modern Orthodox teenagers pulled up next to us. We made quick friends, joking about our matching footwear (shoutout to Blundstones, the unofficial footwear of Israel) and commiserating as some of their kosher food was confiscated by airport security. I guess hummus is considered a liquid, not a solid. And while I did not join them in their prayers, I felt tremendous pride when I saw a group of them davening mincha in a corner of the airport. When we found other members of the Jewish Community, it made our world feel more connected. Even though we didn't know these teens personally, I knew I could talk to any of them and form instant bonds.

Every few weeks, I get an email, text, or even a phone call from someone who would like to get more involved in Congregation Beth Shalom Sisterhood. Sometimes these are women who are new to the area, whereas other times, they are longtime members who are just looking for a different way to find connections. We are so fortunate that our synagogue is such a large community (and growing!), but sometimes that largeness can make each of us feel a little lost. Finding 'your people' can make something that feels too big feel more manageable, more intimate.

So, when I talk to women who are looking to get more involved in Sisterhood, we often talk about how to find the people who make us feel at ease and most like ourselves. And while we love how big and diverse our community is, sometimes we want that smaller crew. And to anyone who has a nagging feeling that they're a little bit out of place or a little bit lost, Sisterhood can be that entity that makes you feel a little more at home- and maybe we'll even discuss the latest in Israeli footwear. We remember the words of Psalm 133, "How good and how pleasant it is that we dwell together." I hope that we can all dwell together at a sisterhood event soon!

MEN'S CLUB

Bob Goldwin

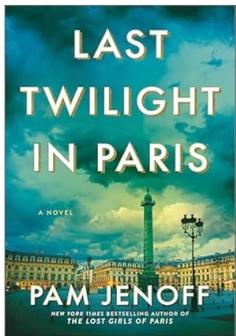

Wow, can you believe it's turning into a beautiful spring in Chicago? In fact, as I write this inspiring Men's Club article it's a balmy 34 degree March 31st (I wish it was 4/1, so I could say April Fools about the weather, but nope, it's just cold). Don't worry, it's spring in the Chicago suburbs, so tomorrow it could be 75 degrees (spoiler- I just checked, it's not going to be 75).

Well, now on to more pressing business, Men's Club business. After a busy February and March, April was a relaxed month for us. We hosted a cool outing at a local establishment to watch a night of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. We had a great turnout, and it was a lot of fun as attendees cheered on their favorite teams or bracket selections. Men's Club will be hosting our annual Men's Club Shabbat and Kiddush on Saturday, May 3. I hope that you will all come and join us as we pray and daven, share some nosh and socialize at what is always a fun Kiddush.

Now, if that is all Men's Club Shabbat was/is, that would be more than enough, but Men's Club Shabbat also recognizes our yearly Kavod honoree. One of the coolest jobs I have as President of the Men's Club is announcing our various honors which includes the very deserving 2025 Kavod Honoree. Our honoree is a dedicated and active member of the CBS Men's Club, he has held various positions on our Executive Committee including being House Vice President, Recording Secretary, and Ways and Means Vice President (yay lox box). Outside of Beth Shalom our honoree is a highly successful Occupational Therapist. He is a 1992 graduate of Washington University in St. Louis with a BA in Psychology and again in 1993 with his MSOT (Master of Science in Occupational Therapy), and he received his MBA from Lake Forest College. He is a Past President of the American Society of Hand Therapists, and he is also the Chair of the American Hand Therapy Association, all while sitting on the Hand Therapy Certification Commission. You would think with all these organizations along with the teaching he does, our honoree wouldn't have much free time, but guess what? He does, all because of how organized he is. Our honoree is an avid Peloton rider, dog daddy to Charlie, but nothing is more important to him than his wife Debbie and his two daughters Ilana and Talia. If you haven't guessed, our 2025 Kavod Honoree is Gary Solomon. Congratulations Gary! Please join us in honoring Gary at Men's Club Shabbat on Saturday-morning May 3 right here at Congregation Beth Shalom.

Tracy Safron Suggests

Last Twilight in Paris is a fascinating historical novel by Pam Jenoff. Jenoff masterfully uses the halves of a Mizpah charm to connect two women living in different decades and different places. Also critical to the plot is the true story of a large, abandoned store in Paris that served as a Nazi prison.

Helaine is an 18-year-old Jewish woman residing in Paris with her wealthy parents in 1938. Helaine had a serious illness as a child and to protect her, Helaine's parents kept her confined to their luxurious home for 13 years. Helaine finally ventures outside and soon falls in love with Gabriel, a professional cello player and a gentile. Helaine marries Gabriel and is disowned by her parents. In 1941, Gabriel tells Helaine he must leave her to tour with the symphony in Germany. To stay connected she gives him half of her Mizpah charm. When Helaine hasn't had word of Gabriel for months, she becomes frantic. Her questions about his travels lead to her own imprisonment at the Lévitán department store.

It is 1953 and Louise lives outside of London with her husband Joe and young twins. Both Louise and Joe served in WWII and still suffer the mental after affects. During the war Louise delivered packages to POWs in Germany as a Red Cross Volunteer. Louise now works at a secondhand store where half of a Mizpah charm necklace is found in a donation box marked Lévitán. Louise is stunned because she thinks she recognizes the necklace. She witnessed a prisoner in a German camp asking her friend to deliver a Mizpah charm to his wife just before the friend died. She has often wondered about the cause of his friend's sudden death. Louise decides to investigate the Mizpah charm's provenance as it could be the key to the mystery that haunts her. Hopefully both women will see the sunset on their troubling pasts.

Men's Club Shabbat Honoring our 2025 Kavod Award Recipient

Gary Solomon Saturday, May 3, 2025 at 9:30 am

You are invited to attend either in person or via Live Stream

Please join us as the CBS Men's Club, including past Kavod Honorees, past presidents, and board members, will lead the Shabbat morning service in what will be a deeply meaningful and spiritually enriching community experience.

Our 2025 Kavod Honoree is longtime Congregation Beth Shalom member Gary Solomon. He has been a very active member of our Men's Club who has held many leadership roles including House Vice President, Recording Secretary, and Ways and Means Vice President. Outside of the Men's Club and Congregation Beth Shalom, Gary has been very active in the Occupational Therapy community. Gary is a past president of the American Society of Hand Therapists, is the chair of the American Hand Therapy Foundation, and sits on the Hand Therapy Certification Commission. In addition to managing the staff and treating patients at Chicago Metro Hand Therapy, he also trains other therapists. While we can't leave out Gary's enjoyment of utilizing his Peloton, nothing pleases Gary more than spending time with his wife Debbie and their daughters Ilana and Talia.

CBS Memorial Plaques

If you wish to honor the memory of a dear one, a most fitting, traditional and dignified remembrance is through a Memorial Plaque.

Each memorial plaque, bearing the name and yahrzeit date, is mounted on the tablet in the Moseson Alcove or Feather Beit Midrash. It is lit on the Shabbat of the week of the yahrzeit, on the day of the yahrzeit and on the four festivals during the year when Yizkor is recited.

The cost of a memorial plaque is $613. Please contact Maria Catezone by phone at 847-498-4100 x126 or email MCatezone@BethShalomNB.org for information or to order a plaque.
